

Mindy Terpak, College of Education

Development Assistant in the College of Education

Mindy began her Penn State career at OPP in 1991. After 8 years of working in various positions for OPP, including the Office of the Vice President, Project Management, and Area Services, she took a position in Conferences and Institutes as an assistant to the conference planner. She was there for one year before securing her position in Development in the office of Lion Line, which was her work-home from 2000 until May of 2023. When Mindy moved on from Lion Line, she headed to the College of Education where she is now their Development Assistant. Mindy resides in Bellefonte with her husband, Pat, and their furry family that includes their pups Talley and Evvy, and their kitty, Piper.
